New Website Redesign

Thanks to @J5 and the Web Team

As most of you may have heard at this week's Town Hall, we have launched the new MonkeDAO website. Here is a quick walkthrough of what has changed for those who missed the news!

All MonkeDAO-related websites are now accessible through the new monkedao.io site. This includes, DAOPool, Monke Ventures, MonkeMaps, Monke Business Center, Monke Brains, and the new DAOvote site when it's released. They are all now subdomains of the current website. Town Hall Recordings and Newsletters are now accessible on the "Members" page of the site. We also gave the newsletter its own page monkedao.io/newsletter.

The new merchandise store monkedao.io/shop will be hosted on the website directly with Solana Pay and Stripe payments available in the next 45 days. We will be updating it with current stock and hopefully new merch items soon!

Tensor and other NFT marketplace links are available on the site, and so is a link to the Gen3 preview provided by the Gen3 team.

If you have any design comments or requests for links and pages on the site, please dm or ping J5 in relevant Discord channels.

Thank you monkes!

We're building the future of social organizations.

We empower our members to contribute and leverage on each other's expertise in order to achieve collective success together. If you're passionate about building the future and want to be involved, we want you.

Hedgehog Polls

Hedgehog Polls is a fun and free-to-play mobile app/dApp designed to revolutionize the way users engage with the world of prediction markets.

Harnessing real-time data, Hedgehog Polls allows you to create, participate in, and analyze polls on diverse topics. From politics and crypto to sports and lifestyle, this app keeps you informed and connected to public sentiment.

By engaging with the app, you can earn rewards! Accumulate points ($HOGP) by answering and creating polls, and use them to enter raffles for Solana NFTs.

Click on the SMB to enter the raffle with your \$HOGP

For the occasion, Hedgehog is raffling one SMB: Gen2 on their platform, absolutely free!
Answer polls, collect points, and buy a raffle ticket with your points to be entered.

But wait, there's more! To make this even more unforgettable, we have decided to match Hedgehog's prize by giving away an additional SMB: Gen2 to one lucky winner who not only used one of our code but also answered the exclusive MonkeDAO questions. Nothing else to be done!

Download the app on hedgehog.markets

Battle Between the SEC and the Chamber of Commerce & Coinbase

The cryptocurrency exchange Coinbase has been in conflict with regulators for years. The battle has been likened to David vs. Goliath.

Now, another well-known figure has joined the fray: Brian Armstrong, the CEO of Coinbase, is receiving reinforcements from the U.S. Chamber of Commerce.

How did we get here?

In 2021, Coinbase petitioned the SEC to provide clarity on which digital assets are considered securities. The SEC did not reply to the petition. In March 2023, the SEC issued a Wells Notice to Coinbase, which is a warning that the agency may take enforcement action against the company.

Coinbase responded to the Wells Notice by suing the SEC. The company is seeking a declaratory judgment that its proposed lending product does not violate securities laws.

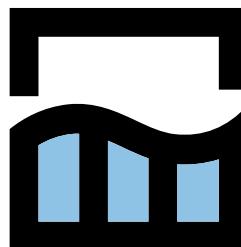

Why does this matter?

The U.S. Chamber of Commerce is a powerful organization that represents the interests of businesses of all sizes. Its support for Coinbase is a significant development in the battle between the SEC and the crypto industry.

The Chamber of Commerce argues that the SEC's lack of clarity on digital assets is hindering innovation and harming investors. The Chamber also argues that the SEC is overstepping its authority by regulating digital assets that are not securities.

What's next?

The case is still pending, and the outcome is uncertain. However, the Chamber's support for Coinbase could help to legitimize the company and its products, and could make it easier for other companies to enter the crypto space.

Grant Program

!buildwithmonkes

Thanks to the Grants Program Team!

Reject Humanity and Return to Monke

MonkeDAO is excited to announce our #BuildWithMonkes Grant Program!

This will be open to ALL in our BuildwithMonkeDAO Discord:

<https://discord.gg/2AGJBrwQJ7>

This is made possible in part by collaborating with the Solana Foundation to build more together!

This program will help us reach EVERYONE building on Solana just as we did with the Carbon Credit Grant, we will focus on the development of open-source tools designed to improve the DAO and NFT ecosystems on Solana.

MonkeDAO will implement an independent Grants Committee to run this program. Our experts in the space will be tasked with identifying the best applicants, making sure the process is fair and the ideas are ambitious, and eventually distributing the grants as well.

Application link in the #MonkeGrantApplication channel. Share with us what you would like to build and why it's needed at this current stage of development for Solana. Together, we can promote the use of new innovations to remove the friction that currently exists in this space.

We have enjoyed building our Discord Community around this program to bring all the best builders together. We still have funds to deploy for anyone that would like to submit their application here. (Note grants will only be available for open-source products.)

It is not required to own a Monke to receive a Monke Grant. We are here to support the @solana ecosystem and all communities and all builders are welcome. Therefore, the build with MonkeDAO Discord is an open public Discord with everyone eligible to request access to a Monke Grant.

We also want to congratulate our first grant recipient, @Ben | Cogent Crypto! Ben is working on the creation of an xNFT project focused around improving the primitives for Staking on Solana, building on the free tools he's already been providing through Cogent Crypto. We're excited for the demos and looking forward to moving forward with more Grants. We would love to see more exciting ideas and see how we can help you build!

Reject humanity,
return to monke.
